

CAPT. WALSH DIED AS HERO AT VERDUN

Widow, at Home in Hempstead, Told He Met Death on October 15.

MAJOR MARTIN RECOVERS

Westbury Man Suffered From Gas Attack—Red Cross Nurse Gives Life.

Capt. Michael J. Walsh, Headquarters Company, 165th Infantry, died a hero's death on October 15 as he led his men at Verdun. Official notice of his death was received by his wife at her home in Hempstead, L. I.

Mrs. Walsh received a letter dated October 1 from her husband, in which he said he was "feeling fine." The Captain leaves three children.

Word was received at the home of Major Bradley Martin in Westbury, L. I., last night that the Major, who was gassed in France about six weeks ago, had regained his command.

Major Martin is well known as a cricketer, polo player and excellent leader. He was one of the leading figures in the Meadow Brook Club and other fashionable organizations in Nassau county. His Westbury home is one of the show places of that section.

Red Cross Nurse Dies.

Another addition to the names of Red Cross volunteers who have given their lives in the service is that of Margaret W. Worth, a nurse attached to Base Hospital Unit No. 48, located at Mars sur Allier, France. She is reported as having died of disease.

Miss Worth was in charge of the baby ward of the Fort-Graduate Hospital, Miss Worth was a daughter of Archibald Carter Worth.

According to a letter received by Mr. and Mrs. John F. Mullin, 652 Evergreen avenue, Brooklyn, from their son, Corporal Leo Mullin, Company L, 165th Infantry, written from a German prison camp at Lemburg, the corporal was captured as the result of his successful efforts in hiding three wounded comrades.

August 12, Mullin wrote, the company was split into platoons and sent forward to take a German position. His companions were wounded and he carried them one by one to a wrecked wire cellar, where he covered them with straw. As he came out of the cellar he saw that the Germans had forced back his platoon, and he died back.

Located by Germans. The Germans soon located him and compelled him to come out, but they did not find his comrades, nor did he enlighten them as to their whereabouts.

Later the Americans gained the position, found the three wounded men and cared for them.

Sergeant Arthur E. Lawson, Company C, 107th Infantry, was killed in action on September 29, read a brief message received by his family at 1060 Seventy-second street, Brooklyn. Lawson was 25 years old and lived at Chen Cove, L. I. Just before entering the service he was secretary of the Town Board of Oyster Bay.

Corporal Arthur Potter, Company C, 165th Infantry, was killed in action on October 15, according to advice received by his father, Watson Potter of 44 Fourth avenue, Brooklyn. The corporal, who was 24, was a graduate of St. Augustine's Parochial School and worked in a department store as shipping clerk. His brother, John, two years his senior, is with an ambulance corps in France.

One of Three Brothers Slain. Private John M. Ott, 28, killed in action on October 12, was one of three brothers in the service, all of whom lived with their sister, Mrs. Louisa Brown, 1240 Franklin avenue, The Bronx, who is joining the Red Cross.

Private James A. Anderson, 23, who died of Spanish influenza on October 26, wrote a letter, recently received by his mother, Mrs. Frances Barton, a widow of 138 East 115th street, in which he urged her to send him any Christmas presents as he would surely be home before Christmas.

Sergeant William J. Gordon, 25, has been missing in action since October 11. He is a brother of Sergeant Edward Gordon, a Jersey City policeman, who was wounded in action in September. The brothers live at 93 Wilkeson avenue, Jersey City, and were drafted in September of last year.

Top Sergeant Sidney H. Gardner, attached to the Third Anti Aircraft Gun Battalion, who died in France of pneumonia on October 21, was a son of Mrs. Gussie Gardner of 538 New Jersey avenue, Brooklyn. He had served in the United States Army six years and went to France in August last.

Woman Occupant of Apartment Taken Into Custody. Lieutenant James Doyle, 29 years old, of 1871 Morris avenue, The Bronx, attached to the Ninth Company, Third Battalion, at Camp Upton, who has been missing for twenty-nine days, was found yesterday in a half dazed condition in a apartment house in West Seventeenth street.

Mildred Terry, 21, who lives in the apartment, was locked up in the West Sixty-eighth street police station charged with felonious assault and violation of the code which relates to sending narcotics to soldiers. Doyle was taken to his home under guard and is still in a semi-conscious condition.

Women to Boycott German Goods. The women's national committee of the American Defence Society will hold meetings throughout the country in the week beginning December 2 to push the campaign against the purchase of German made goods.

The Nation's Honor Roll

Table with columns: Killed in action (including 396 at sea), Died of wounds, Died of disease, Died of accident and other causes, Wounded in action, Missing in action (including prisoners). Total 85,452.

(Corrected according to latest War Department figures.)

Table with columns: Deaths, all causes, Wounded, Missing in action (including prisoners). Total 4,026.

(Corrected according to latest Marine Corps figures.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The following casualty lists were made public to-day by the War Department:

ARMY.

Character of casualties is indicated thus: (K) killed in action; (D) died of wounds; (DW) died of disease; (DC) died of accident and other causes; (DD) died of disease; (W) wounded; (M) missing; (P) prisoner; (S) surrendered; (C) captured; (R) recovered.

NEW YORK CITY.

TOMPKINS, Frank C., Central Union Trust Co., New York (W).

BYRNE, Joseph Patrick, Lieut., 249 E. 11th St., New York (W).

MILLER, Tobias, Lieut., 219 W. 119th St., New York (W).

COHEN, Louis, Lieut., 118 Eldridge st., New York (W).

GARDNER, Sydney H., Lieut., 815 New Jersey av., Brooklyn (DD).

GELAND, Lawrence, Lieut., 279 Avenue B, New York (W).

MCARTAN, Matthew, Lieut., 216 E. 84th St., New York (W).

LAWSON, Arthur H., Lieut., 1040 124th St., Brooklyn (W).

SCHMIDT, William J., Lieut., 443 E. 143d St., New York (W).

LABR, Thomas, Lieut., 47 Myrtle av., New York (W).

FRANCIS, Nick, Lieut., 67 Mt. Vernon st., New York (W).

MULLIN, Leo A., Lieut., 418 Evergreen st., New York (W).

McINTYRE, Theodore, Lieut., 27 W. 84th St., New York (W).

MORRIS, Fred, Lieut., Municipal Building, New York (W).

BRADY, James, Lieut., 446 Canal st., Brooklyn (W).

NEELSON, John W., Lieut., 491 9th st., New York (W).

PALMISTO, Jerry, Lieut., 44 Lenox av., New York (W).

SMITH, William, Lieut., 45 4th av., Brooklyn (W).

SCHMIDT, George, Lieut., 476 11th St., New York (W).

SCHMIDT, William, Lieut., 1225 St. Nicholas av., New York (W).

THAT, William J., Lieut., 224 Bedford St., New York (W).

WORTH, Mary, Lieut., 208 W. 84th St., New York (W).

ARMSTRONG, Harry, Lieut., 121 E. New York St., Brooklyn (W).

ANDERSON, Anthony A., Lieut., 123 E. 5th St., Brooklyn (W).

LOUISIANA.

ARCHENEAUX, Robert, Lieut., Derbon (W).

BARRIOL, Louis, Lieut., Derbon (W).

BRADY, Donald, Lieut., New Orleans (K).

DELANNOY, T. Reserve (K).

DEVITT, David C. Reserve (K).

JOHNSON, Jesse L. Reserve (K).

MCBRIDE, Charles, Reserve (W).

BLINDA, Salvatore, Lieut., Madison (W).

DEMONTE, Charles L., Lieut., Detroit (K).

FRANCO, Joseph, Lieut., New Orleans (K).

PRINCE, Edward V., Lieut., White (W).

WHITEHEAD, James A., Lieut., New Orleans (W).

YOUNG, Roy S., La Grange (W).

MAINE.

BLINDA, Salvatore, Lieut., Madison (W).

DEMONTE, Charles L., Lieut., Detroit (K).

FRANCO, Joseph, Lieut., New Orleans (K).

PRINCE, Edward V., Lieut., White (W).

WHITEHEAD, James A., Lieut., New Orleans (W).

YOUNG, Roy S., La Grange (W).

MASSACHUSETTS.

CAMPBELL, George A., Lieut., Woburn (K).

SIMPSON, Nathaniel E., Jr., Lieut., Boston (K).

BAKER, Douglas Brooks, Lieut., Melrose (W).

CHAPIN, Roger F., Lieut., Ashmont (P).

LANNON, Michael J., Lieut., Roxbury (W).

NICKLES, Edward E., Lieut., Somerville (W).

MCNEIL, Michael, Lieut., Charlestown (W).

RODGER, Alexander J., Lieut., Washington (DD).

MADDEN, Willis N., Lieut., Washington (DD).

SNYDER, Maurice B., Lieut., Washington (DD).

NEW JERSEY.

OLIPHANT, Edwin, Lieut., Trenton (K).

BALLET, George B., Lieut., 221 Pennington (K).

BIETZ, Fred, Lieut., 93 Bleecker st., Jersey City (W).

GORDON, William J., Lieut., 25 Wilkeson st., Jersey City (W).

KONIG, Frank, Lieut., Camden (W).

LEHY, Howard C., Lieut., Oakhurst (W).

SAVIERE, James, Lieut., 15 Kingsley st., Newark (W).

DOWN, Harry, Lieut., 13 Norfolk st., Newark (W).

MEIER, Henry J., Lieut., 28 Halstead st., Newark (W).

NEPOMUK, Joseph, Lieut., 24 Fenner st., Newark (W).

PASQUARILLA, Tony, 24 Chestnut st., Newark (W).

ARGIANO, Joseph, 213 John st., Elizabeth (W).

BAILEY, James, 275 Grand st., Jersey City (DD).

BAILEY, August Martin, South Orange (W).

BENJAMIN, William, 45 Baden av., Newark (W).

BLICK, David, 54 Livingston st., Elizabeth (W).

BOHM, James J., 24 Monmouth st., Newark (W).

BURKE, Martin, 469 Grove st., Jersey City (W).

CAHILL, Joseph, 27 10th st., Hoboken (W).

DONOPPIO, Anthony N., 115 Remsen av., Newark (W).

DIETZ, Harry, 223 Morris av., Summit (W).

HERSCHE, Joseph, 29 Terrace place, Atlantic (W).

HERSCHE, Alfred C., 274 Van Houten (W).

HOCK, Leonard, 125 2nd st., Paterson (K).

JOLLETT, Edward, Irvington (K).

LEVINE, Max, 19 John st., Bayonne (DD).

LEWIS, Joseph, 195 Clifton av., Lakewood (W).

LUNZ, Michael J., South River (W).

MILLER, Robert E., 49 Smith (W).

MOONEY, Michael H., 221 Erie st., Jersey City (W).

POLLARD, Frank, Midland Park (K).

NEW YORK STATE.

WALSH, Major, Westbury (W).

WALSH, Frank, Lieut., Oswego (K).

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The ship Lucina, which was equipped with buoyancy boxes designed to make her unsinkable, was the last American vessel reported torpedoed by an enemy submarine. In making this announcement to-day the Navy Department has issued a report of the actions of Chief Boatswain's Mate William Francis O'Brien of Lawrence, Mass., who was in charge of the Lucina's armed guard, and also revealed that Secretary Daniels has commended O'Brien and twenty-three other men of the guard for their coolness and attempts to duty.

The Lucina was torpedoed on October 17 and remained afloat twenty-four hours. The torpedo struck amidships and entered the engine room, killing four men. Four members of the crew were killed and the armed guard succeeded in taking the ship back to safety after they had taken to the small boats. The civilian crew were ordered to disembark immediately after explosion, but the armed guard remained on board until just before the craft went down.

The explosion left the ship in a helpless condition. The ship was one of the dynamo out of order as well as the engine room. The submarine sighted almost simultaneously with the explosion, but before guns could be trained upon it it disappeared and was not seen again. At intervals during the night the ship's lights were seen, but they had taken to the small boats. The civilian crew were ordered to disembark immediately after explosion, but the armed guard remained on board until just before the craft went down.

The explosion left the ship in a helpless condition. The ship was one of the dynamo out of order as well as the engine room. The submarine sighted almost simultaneously with the explosion, but before guns could be trained upon it it disappeared and was not seen again. At intervals during the night the ship's lights were seen, but they had taken to the small boats. The civilian crew were ordered to disembark immediately after explosion, but the armed guard remained on board until just before the craft went down.

The explosion left the ship in a helpless condition. The ship was one of the dynamo out of order as well as the engine room. The submarine sighted almost simultaneously with the explosion, but before guns could be trained upon it it disappeared and was not seen again. At intervals during the night the ship's lights were seen, but they had taken to the small boats. The civilian crew were ordered to disembark immediately after explosion, but the armed guard remained on board until just before the craft went down.

The explosion left the ship in a helpless condition. The ship was one of the dynamo out of order as well as the engine room. The submarine sighted almost simultaneously with the explosion, but before guns could be trained upon it it disappeared and was not seen again. At intervals during the night the ship's lights were seen, but they had taken to the small boats. The civilian crew were ordered to disembark immediately after explosion, but the armed guard remained on board until just before the craft went down.

The explosion left the ship in a helpless condition. The ship was one of the dynamo out of order as well as the engine room. The submarine sighted almost simultaneously with the explosion, but before guns could be trained upon it it disappeared and was not seen again. At intervals during the night the ship's lights were seen, but they had taken to the small boats. The civilian crew were ordered to disembark immediately after explosion, but the armed guard remained on board until just before the craft went down.

The explosion left the ship in a helpless condition. The ship was one of the dynamo out of order as well as the engine room. The submarine sighted almost simultaneously with the explosion, but before guns could be trained upon it it disappeared and was not seen again. At intervals during the night the ship's lights were seen, but they had taken to the small boats. The civilian crew were ordered to disembark immediately after explosion, but the armed guard remained on board until just before the craft went down.

The explosion left the ship in a helpless condition. The ship was one of the dynamo out of order as well as the engine room. The submarine sighted almost simultaneously with the explosion, but before guns could be trained upon it it disappeared and was not seen again. At intervals during the night the ship's lights were seen, but they had taken to the small boats. The civilian crew were ordered to disembark immediately after explosion, but the armed guard remained on board until just before the craft went down.

The explosion left the ship in a helpless condition. The ship was one of the dynamo out of order as well as the engine room. The submarine sighted almost simultaneously with the explosion, but before guns could be trained upon it it disappeared and was not seen again. At intervals during the night the ship's lights were seen, but they had taken to the small boats. The civilian crew were ordered to disembark immediately after explosion, but the armed guard remained on board until just before the craft went down.

The explosion left the ship in a helpless condition. The ship was one of the dynamo out of order as well as the engine room. The submarine sighted almost simultaneously with the explosion, but before guns could be trained upon it it disappeared and was not seen again. At intervals during the night the ship's lights were seen, but they had taken to the small boats. The civilian crew were ordered to disembark immediately after explosion, but the armed guard remained on board until just before the craft went down.

The explosion left the ship in a helpless condition. The ship was one of the dynamo out of order as well as the engine room. The submarine sighted almost simultaneously with the explosion, but before guns could be trained upon it it disappeared and was not seen again. At intervals during the night the ship's lights were seen, but they had taken to the small boats. The civilian crew were ordered to disembark immediately after explosion, but the armed guard remained on board until just before the craft went down.

The explosion left the ship in a helpless condition. The ship was one of the dynamo out of order as well as the engine room. The submarine sighted almost simultaneously with the explosion, but before guns could be trained upon it it disappeared and was not seen again. At intervals during the night the ship's lights were seen, but they had taken to the small boats. The civilian crew were ordered to disembark immediately after explosion, but the armed guard remained on board until just before the craft went down.

The explosion left the ship in a helpless condition. The ship was one of the dynamo out of order as well as the engine room. The submarine sighted almost simultaneously with the explosion, but before guns could be trained upon it it disappeared and was not seen again. At intervals during the night the ship's lights were seen, but they had taken to the small boats. The civilian crew were ordered to disembark immediately after explosion, but the armed guard remained on board until just before the craft went down.

The explosion left the ship in a helpless condition. The ship was one of the dynamo out of order as well as the engine room. The submarine sighted almost simultaneously with the explosion, but before guns could be trained upon it it disappeared and was not seen again. At intervals during the night the ship's lights were seen, but they had taken to the small boats. The civilian crew were ordered to disembark immediately after explosion, but the armed guard remained on board until just before the craft went down.

The explosion left the ship in a helpless condition. The ship was one of the dynamo out of order as well as the engine room. The submarine sighted almost simultaneously with the explosion, but before guns could be trained upon it it disappeared and was not seen again. At intervals during the night the ship's lights were seen, but they had taken to the small boats. The civilian crew were ordered to disembark immediately after explosion, but the armed guard remained on board until just before the craft went down.

The explosion left the ship in a helpless condition. The ship was one of the dynamo out of order as well as the engine room. The submarine sighted almost simultaneously with the explosion, but before guns could be trained upon it it disappeared and was not seen again. At intervals during the night the ship's lights were seen, but they had taken to the small boats. The civilian crew were ordered to disembark immediately after explosion, but the armed guard remained on board until just before the craft went down.

The explosion left the ship in a helpless condition. The ship was one of the dynamo out of order as well as the engine room. The submarine sighted almost simultaneously with the explosion, but before guns could be trained upon it it disappeared and was not seen again. At intervals during the night the ship's lights were seen, but they had taken to the small boats. The civilian crew were ordered to disembark immediately after explosion, but the armed guard remained on board until just before the craft went down.

The explosion left the ship in a helpless condition. The ship was one of the dynamo out of order as well as the engine room. The submarine sighted almost simultaneously with the explosion, but before guns could be trained upon it it disappeared and was not seen again. At intervals during the night the ship's lights were seen, but they had taken to the small boats. The civilian crew were ordered to disembark immediately after explosion, but the armed guard remained on board until just before the craft went down.

The explosion left the ship in a helpless condition. The ship was one of the dynamo out of order as well as the engine room. The submarine sighted almost simultaneously with the explosion, but before guns could be trained upon it it disappeared and was not seen again. At intervals during the night the ship's lights were seen, but they had taken to the small boats. The civilian crew were ordered to disembark immediately after explosion, but the armed guard remained on board until just before the craft went down.

The explosion left the ship in a helpless condition. The ship was one of the dynamo out of order as well as the engine room. The submarine sighted almost simultaneously with the explosion, but before guns could be trained upon it it disappeared and was not seen again. At intervals during the night the ship's lights were seen, but they had taken to the small boats. The civilian crew were ordered to disembark immediately after explosion, but the armed guard remained on board until just before the craft went down.

The explosion left the ship in a helpless condition. The ship was one of the dynamo out of order as well as the engine room. The submarine sighted almost simultaneously with the explosion, but before guns could be trained upon it it disappeared and was not seen again. At intervals during the night the ship's lights were seen, but they had taken to the small boats. The civilian crew were ordered to disembark immediately after explosion, but the armed guard remained on board until just before the craft went down.

The explosion left the ship in a helpless condition. The ship was one of the dynamo out of order as well as the engine room. The submarine sighted almost simultaneously with the explosion, but before guns could be trained upon it it disappeared and was not seen again. At intervals during the night the ship's lights were seen, but they had taken to the small boats. The civilian crew were ordered to disembark immediately after explosion, but the armed guard remained on board until just before the craft went down.

The explosion left the ship in a helpless condition. The ship was one of the dynamo out of order as well as the engine room. The submarine sighted almost simultaneously with the explosion, but before guns could be trained upon it it disappeared and was not seen again. At intervals during the night the ship's lights were seen, but they had taken to the small boats. The civilian crew were ordered to disembark immediately after explosion, but the armed guard remained on board until just before the craft went down.

The explosion left the ship in a helpless condition. The ship was one of the dynamo out of order as well as the engine room. The submarine sighted almost simultaneously with the explosion, but before guns could be trained upon it it disappeared and was not seen again. At intervals during the night the ship's lights were seen, but they had taken to the small boats. The civilian crew were ordered to disembark immediately after explosion, but the armed guard remained on board until just before the craft went down.

The explosion left the ship in a helpless condition. The ship was one of the dynamo out of order as well as the engine room. The submarine sighted almost simultaneously with the explosion, but before guns could be trained upon it it disappeared and was not seen again. At intervals during the night the ship's lights were seen, but they had taken to the small boats. The civilian crew were ordered to disembark immediately after explosion, but the armed guard remained on board until just before the craft went down.

The explosion left the ship in a helpless condition. The ship was one of the dynamo out of order as well as the engine room. The submarine sighted almost simultaneously with the explosion, but before guns could be trained upon it it disappeared and was not seen again. At intervals during the night the ship's lights were seen, but they had taken to the small boats. The civilian crew were ordered to disembark immediately after explosion, but the armed guard remained on board until just before the craft went down.

The explosion left the ship in a helpless condition. The ship was one of the dynamo out of order as well as the engine room. The submarine sighted almost simultaneously with the explosion, but before guns could be trained upon it it disappeared and was not seen again. At intervals during the night the ship's lights were seen, but they had taken to the small boats. The civilian crew were ordered to disembark immediately after explosion, but the armed guard remained on board until just before the craft went down.

The explosion left the ship in a helpless condition. The ship was one of the dynamo out of order as well as the engine room. The submarine sighted almost simultaneously with the explosion, but before guns could be trained upon it it disappeared and was not seen again. At intervals during the night the ship's lights were seen, but they had taken to the small boats. The civilian crew were ordered to disemb